

SAF

English as a Foreign Language Teacher Training London, England

The English language is used as a de-facto lingua franca all over the world. English language learning happens across the world as well. But in England, the source of this global language is also the center of continued English language studies.

This ten-day program at University College London (UCL) provides English language teaching faculty with timely and relevant real-world experiences in effective instruction. The program is designed to provide training focused on classroom presentation and teaching English as a foreign language.

Through IES Abroad, SAF manages end-to-end logistics including curriculum development, pre-departure support, health and safety orientation, housing, transport, academic coordination, site visits and high-level staff support for all students and staff on the program.

Lecture and observation series focused on teaching methodologies, active learning strategies, classroom management, and use of technology and presentation skills.

Cultural visits to London's most time-honored and historic attractions

English course delivered by faculty from UCL Institute of Education, a leading center of research consistently ranking number one for education worldwide.

English Language Teacher Training London, England

Program Composition & Characteristics

English-language teaching curriculum – Faculty at University College London Institute of Education (IOE) provide coursework emphasizing the best research-driven teaching methods for English as a foreign language, covering topics like learning strategies, classroom management and presentation skills. A large number of IOE faculty are Fellows or Senior Fellows of the Higher Education Academy.

On-site teaching – With exclusive access to IES Abroad’s global network of teaching centers, along with valuable facetime with site visits and observations of TEFL classes, students on the course experience a combination of quality in-class instruction and immersive on-site teaching.

Experience London – Historic and celebrated, this famous cultural capital offers students the very best Great Britain has to offer, with featured visits to Big Ben, Buckingham Palace and the Tower of London enhancing the learning outcomes of participants.

Format:
14 days in London, England

Curriculum focus:
Gaining a deeper and more comprehensive understanding of teaching English as a foreign language

Course intensity:

- 15 hours per week teaching methodologies and TEFL/IELTS techniques
- 10 hours per week presentation skills and use of technology

Faculty expertise:
Faculty from University College London Institute of Education and the Centre for Languages & International Education

Housing style:
Hotel

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Airport arrival Housing check-in Welcome Dinner 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Course introduction Guided city tour including famous districts like Piccadilly and Camden Markets 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Lecture: Classroom technology 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Lecture: changing dynamics of the classroom Visit Westminster Abbey 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Presentation skills course 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Site visit to the Institute of Education at UCL 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Guided tour of major London landmarks, such as Big Ben, Buckingham Palace, London Eye, Tower of London
Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Attend English Premier League Football match 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Presentation skills course Lecture: Classroom technology 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Roundtable discussion with IOE faculty 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Observation of TEFL class 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> EFL methodology course Observation of TEFL class Attend a play at Shakespeare's Globe theater 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Presentation skills course Closing Ceremony 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Departure Day (check out & transport to the airport)

“UCL’s partnership with SAF dates back to 2009. During this 10 year period the partnership with SAF (including operations in China, Japan, South Korea and Taiwan) has grown considerably and now embraces year, semester and summer study abroad and English language programmes. The growing number of institutions in SAF’s university network and in-country connections have been invaluable in terms developing UCL’s outreach in these countries. UCL is excited to be working with SAF as the new partnership with IES.”

Mark Pickerill, Liaison and Recruitment Manager

